

MCIS eWorkbook

How to start:

Log on to MCIS from nonprofit Student Assistance Foundation's Web site, www.SmartAboutCollege.org

Section 4: Paying for College

The question of how to pay for your postsecondary education is likely weighing heavily on your mind. Numerous options ranging from grants to student loans are available, and given the current cost of higher education, you may need to rely on financial aid to make ends meet.

Click on the "Financial Aid Sort" tab to identify potential sources of aid to help you pay for college. By answering a series of questions about your talents and interests, academic performance and more, MCIS can narrow down your search to funding for which you might qualify.

For more information about financial aid, log on to www.SmartAboutCollege.org and click on the Pay for College tab.

Notes:
